

NEWER LIGHT ON THE YASSIADA SHIPWRECK: THE ON-GOING RESTUDY OF THE LRA2/13 AMPHORAS

Peter van Alfen

ABSTRACT

This paper presents preliminary results from the restudy of the approximately 600 extant globular amphoras from the Yassiada shipwreck. Among the specific questions that this study seeks to address pertain to the extent of amphora standardization and its importance in commerce and taxation, the cultural function of amphoras, and the nature of the ship's final voyage.
